Studio Ing. Martini S.r.l. is the creative force behind some of the most innovative civil engineering designs in the North East region of Italy. Our staff includes structural, transport, hydraulic and geotechnical engineers and engages competent architects to provide architectural services. Our firm, which established a branch office in South Africa in 2013 and whose CEO Eng. Antonio Martini is registered as a Professional Engineer with the Engineering Council of South Africa (ECSA), has more than 20 years of experience in the sector and works under ISO 9001:2008 quality standards in the following fields: civil structural design, transport planning and design (roads and railroads), building design, hydraulic and urban planning, work supervision and other site activities and technical assistance.
